THE INDIAN WAR. Accumulation of Outrages-Government Reinforcements Called For-Immense

Amount of Property Destroyed. St. Louie, Sept. 1.—Late advices from Fort Reiley say the Indian outrages have increased during the past ten days. On the 19th a train from Santa Fe to Leavenworth was attacked at Cimmeran Springs, and ten men killed. All the stock was captured, and the train abandoned. On the 21st two hundred Indians attacked saveral trains including one belonging tacked several trains, including one belonging to the Government, sixty miles west of Fort Larned. One man was killed, and all the stock

Large bands of Indians are congregating in the neighborhood of Fort Lyon, and outrages are of daily occurrence. Several unprotected settlements between Fort Lyon and Baze Mountains are now receiving the attention of the Indians. The country traversed by the savages extends from the Platte to the Arkanses river, about four hundred miles from east to weet. to west. Our present force is entirely inadequate for the work before it.

Immediate reinforcements are absolutely needed. Over two hundred persons have been murdered on the Platte route, and one hundred on the Arkansas head-waters, Smoky Hill, and Republican rivers. 300,000 dollars' worth of property have been captured and destroyed, besides three thousand horses, five hundred mules, and two thousand oxen. Idaho and Montana are said to swarm with disloyal men. It is estimated that two thousand of this class have gone there the past year, and half of the Mexicans are very uneasy along the entire mountain range. Rebel Mormons are said to have been at work among them.

FROM NEW ORLEANS. The Condition of Fort Morgan-A Rebel Ram Blown up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamer McClellan, fron New Orleans on the 24th, via Mobile Bay on the 27th ult., has arrived. She brings Admiral Farragut's official dispatches re-garding the capture of Fort Morgan, and the flags of the Rebel Ram Tennessee, the Rebel steamer Selma, and of Forts Gaines and Mor-The Rebel ram Nashville was blown up by the Metacomet on the night of the 25th, just below Mobile. She was 360 feet long, and was to mount 12 guns. The gunboat Onedia fished up six torpedoes on the 25th, in the channel below the The ram Tennessee would soon leave for New Orleans. The Selma is doing duty in the Union canse. Our forces ashore and on shipboard are in excellent condition. The McClellan touched off Key West, and brought a mail thence. The fever is increasing.

From the Valley of Virginia. The New York Herald contains the following dispatch :

FALLING WATERS, Aug. 31.—Gen. Averill's cavalry attacked the enemy to-day on the Winchester pike, and drove him beyond Clarksonville; also pressed the enemy's pickets upon the Gerrardstown and Charleston roads, on the Winchester pike. The enemy's pickets were reinforced, but held in check until shortly after one o'clock p. m., when the rebels advanced with an infantry division and artillery, shewing but little cavalry. On the rebel advance being made a brief engagement ensued, the enemy showing a much greater force than Our casualties are light. Lieut. Hagerty company C, 14th Pennsylvania, is among the wounded. This morning a dispatch was received from General Kelley, at Cumberland, that all was quiet in that neighborhood; that McNeil, with about 250 men was between Romney and Hanging Rock, threatening a raid. The result of the operations is what was expected and was desired. The reoccupation of Martinsburg to-night by the enemy is not to be

The Pirate Tallahassee Chased by a Union Gunboat-Her Escape into Wilming-

From the first moment of discovering the strange craft the Monticello commenced to throw rockets, signals understood by the rest of the fleet, distant over eight miles from the scene of action, and continued to keep them apprised of the condition of affairs. At about 7 p.m. communication was established between Captain Phelon and Senior Officer Glosson, who had made all speed to reach the scene of contest. Deeming further search in the dark to be futile, it was abandoned, and a vigorous lookout was kept up by all the fleet during the rest of the night.

To Captain Phelon all honor is due. To him belongs the credit of first engaging the rival of the destroyed Alabama, whose end may be similar to that of her predecessor. similar to that of her predecessor.

It would seem as if still another was to be added to the fleet of our rebel cruisers. A few nights age, a large, fast steamer, carrying at her stern the English ensign, at her foremast the rebel colors, entered the port of Wilmington. Fort Caswell and the battery fired a few de joie. She is supposed to be a new rebel cruiser, or to have had on board some distinguised, welcome passenger. She likewise still remains there. The Tallahassee had but one mast standing

THIRD GRAND PIC-NIC T At the WASHINGTON PARK, Seventh street,

The New York Tribune correspondent gives the following interesting particulars of the cap-ture of Fort Morgan: ture of Fort Morgan:

The fort was much damaged, owing to the rapid firing of the fleet, which was so quick and constant that the fort could scarcely reply. When the white flag was hoisted, the enthusiasm of our officers and men knew no bounds; they immediately commenced a promiscuous saluting with muskets, pistols, &c.

The following dispatches have been re-

THE GURRENDER OF FORT MORGAN.

Interesting Particulars of the Siege and Surrender.

The following dispatches have been received: FLAGSHIP HARTFORD, Mobile Bay, August 23, 1864.—To Com. Palmer, Commanding at New Orleans:—Fort Morgan made an unconditional surrender at 2 p. m. to-day, to the forces of the Army and Navy. General Paige did not make us wait as long as I expected. We will cheer our flag and salute it, when hoisted, with an hundred guns by the whole fleet. Congratulate General Centre of the salute and the great successions. ulate General Canby upon the great success which has attended his first effort in this Department. Nothing could have been more harmonious than our combined operations. We had no ambition to excel each other but in the destruction of the enemy's works, which was effectually done by both Army and Navy.

Very truly, yours, D. C. FARRAGUT. THE SIEGE AND ITS RESULTS. Six hundred prisoners were captured, and are now on their way up the river on the U.S. steamers Tennessee and Bienville. All Saturday and Sunday night a regular artillery duel was kept up between the fort and Gen. Granger's men, about one gun being fired by the enemy every fifteen minutes, no damage result-ing to either side, as far as known. On Monday morning at daylight a combined attack by the land and naval forces was begun, and shot and shell were flercely rained upon the doomed place, until between 6 and 7 o'clock yesterday morning a white flag was displayed over Morgan, and firing immediately ceased.

Gen. Paige was given until 2 o'clock p. m. before the final capitulation teok place, which was unconditional. At two o'clock Fort Morgan was taken possession. At five o'clock on Monday afternoon the inner works and quarters of the fort caught fire from our shells, but ters of the fort caught fire from our shells, but the flames were speedily extinguished. At 8 o'clock the same evening another fire broke out, which spread rapidly and burned with great fury until 2 o'clock a.m., when it exhausted itself.

During the whole of this terrible time, our fire was poured in upon the garrison from all sides, rendering the place as near a hell upon earth as the imagination can well conceive. So fierce and continuous was our fire that the enemy were unable to respond in a way that in the least interfered with our operations; but one gun was worked by the rebels during the whole engagement. Our losses during the conflict are stated at one man killed and three slightly wounded.

Fort Morgan is badly shattered by our terrific fire, and is but the wreck of the stronghold over which proudly waved the rebel flag on Sunday last. A salute is now being fired in honor of the wistern. in honor of the victory.

FINANCIAL.-The New York Commercial Advertiser of yesterday evening says: The stock market shows a slight recovery from the reaction of yesterday afternoon. The transactions at the morning board were large, and to an unusual extent speculative The options were about equally divided between buyers and sellers, showing a very great difterence of opinion about the future of the market. The presence on the market of operators who have been long absent is making itself felt, and there can be no doubt that more activity will henceforth be shown.

The proposal of Secretary Fessenden for bids for the balance of $75,000,000 of sixes offered June 6, has a depressing effect on Governments. The '81 bonds were sold at a decline of 2; Five-twenties opened at 1634, and sold up to 1694, closing at a decline of 1. There were large sales of certificates, under which the price fell to 93%-a decline of %. Seventhirties of April are scarce and wanted. State stocks were dull, but firm. Railroad bonds were quiet, the principal interest being on shares.

Gold shows a strong tendency to recover the recent decline. The fall created a strong "short" interest, and the purchasers to cover the "short" contracts have forced up the

The Evening Post says:
The new government loan is attracting considerable attention, and although it is offered ten to fitteen days later than was deemed pradent by the financial authorities, who arged its issue, still the hope is indulged that no very serious or protracted inconvenience will result either to the interests of the government er to the engagements of our commercial classes. A large amount of currency is now going West, the demand for the moving of the crop having set in three weeks earlier than usual. The new bonds, it will be observed, will be sixes of 1881. Five-twenties it was supposed would, in the present condition of the foreign demand, have sold better, and a limited amount may perhaps be hereafter offered to the public. The stock market is lower and feverish in consequence of the prevailing incertitude as to the derangement in the money market, which may be caused by the payments on account of the new government loan.

The Chattanooga Gazette says there is no use in administering the oath of allegiance to rebels there until we can invent an oath that will choke to death the party who violates it. Miss Katharine Southey, the last unmarried daughter of the poet, is dead.
